Description: Khouribga was a town in the land , where the main industry was phosphates.....you could see them when you go outside of the city - huge mountains of it, making the air in the city always dusty.....They were finding huuge shark teeth while digging the ground.....once upon a time this land was an ocean too Sofitel hotel was outside of the city and in the night a horde of black scorpions were crawling on the road to it....another story from my parents..... I was always afraid they will crawl under my bed in the night and sting me.....
